Creative minds and career starters: a weekend of inspiration at Messe Augsburg!

Two exciting events will take place at Messe Augsburg this weekend. Visitors of all ages can look forward to some exciting days packed with creativity and professional opportunities.

CREATIVMESSE

The 28th edition of the established CREATIVMESSE will attract amateur designers, handicraft enthusiasts, craft workers, fashion enthusiasts, trendsetters and newcomers from all over southern Germany to the Schwabenhalle (hall 1) from March 8 to 10, 2024. With an exhibitor area of approx. 8,000 square meters, Augsburg offers more than twice the space for the trade fair and is a perfect space for inspiration, materials and workshops. Visitors can dive into beads, bathe in fabrics, rummage through appliqués and immerse themselves in decorative items. In addition to imaginative upcycling ideas and a creative supporting program there are also special conditions for registered daycare centers and school classes on the opening day in the CREATIVlounge where regional associations offer fun activities for visitors to do and try.

fitforJOB!

Meanwhile, fitforJOB! will again be taking place at Messe Augsburg on Saturday March 9, 2024, offering a unique platform for career orientation and contact with companies and educational institutions. The numerous exhibitors, schools and companies ensure that this career information trade fair is the perfect place to explore training offers and courses.

Both events are likely to be very busy, so the traffic and parking situation on the Messe Augsburg site could be challenging. We would therefore advise visitors to ideally use public transport to travel to the events and enjoy a comfortable and environmentally friendly journey.
